Complementary health insurance

WHO

ADMISSION

The WHO complementary health insurance, provided by GPAFI, is intended for people covered by the basic insurance WHO Staff Health Insurance (SHI).

GPAFI has concluded with UNIQA Assurances SA a group contract for the complementary health insurance, exclusively reserved for members of GPAFI.

The documents for admission to be submitted to GPAFI for each person to be insured are the following:

- Application for admission to UNIQA
- Copy of a valid identity document
- Bank details with IBAN and BIC/SWIFT codes, as well as the name of the account holder (RIB, bank statement), for payment of benefits

The age limit to apply for admission is set at the month of the 60th birthday. Admission is possible on the 1st day of each month for all or part of the family. Children can be insured only if one of both parents are affiliated.

UNIQA reserves the right to refuse any application for admission or to accept an application for admission with a reserve for a limited period.

The prenatal insurance, to be concluded before the birth, allows the newborn child to be covered from birth whatever his or her health.

TERMINATION

Termination of the complementary health insurance must be made in writing to GPAFI (letter with wet signature):

- at the end of each calendar year with three months prior notice
- no later than the end of the year in the event of premium increase the following year

In the event of termination of the basic insurance, the complementary health insurance will be terminated on the same date, on presentation of a certificate of termination delivered by the SHI within two months. Otherwise, the date of termination is the month of the request.

INSURANCE PREMIUMS

Insurance premiums are subject to revision on January 1st of each year, particularly with regards to the increase of benefits.

Insurance premiums are payable on a monthly basis to GPAFI in Swiss francs. However a different payment schedule may be considered upon request.

The premium for one month started regardless of the date, is due for the whole month in question.

Late payment or non-payment of premiums may result in suspension of benefits, reminders fees, and/or the eventual exclusion of the member.

Monthly premiums depend on the age of the insured person on January 1st of each year and shall be as follows:

Age group	0 - 18	19 - 25	26 - 35	36 - 45	46 - 55	56 - 65	66 - 75	76 - 85	86 - 100
Premiums in CHF	59.-	101.-	105.-	131.-	147.-	173.-	213.-	213.-	213.-

A permanent discount of 10% for immediate membership is granted:

- to a staff member who joins the same date as his/her affiliation to the SHIF, as well as family members if they join on the same date (provided that the application for admission to UNIQA be made within two months of the date of admission to the SHIF)
- to the new spouse of the staff member if he/she joins on the date of the marriage
- to the newborn child affiliated on his/her date of birth.

A 50% discount is granted on the premium of the 3rd and subsequent insured child. The 50% and the 10% discounts may not be claimed at the same time.

HOSPITALIZATION

The complementary health insurance provides benefits in the event of hospitalization in a private room (100% of the part not covered by the basic insurance up to a maximum of Fr. 500.- per day).

UNIQA has negotiated special rates with several major hospitals and private clinics in the Lake Geneva area. In order for the insured person to benefit he/she must inform the hospital/clinic that he/she is covered by UNIQA's complementary health insurance upon arrival and/or when pre-reserving the hospital stay.

The hospital/clinic will then issue UNIQA with a guarantee of the negotiated rate.

If the insured person does not convey this information, the institution may charge the stay in a private room at a higher rate than the negotiated one. In this case, UNIQA will only reimburse the expenses for hospitalization in a private room up to the negotiated rate. The difference would have to be borne by the insured person.

WAITING PERIODE

The waiting period is the period between the effective date of insurance and when the insured person may be entitled to certain benefits. A waiting period applies to the following benefits:

- a) 12 months waiting period for maternity and childbirth.
Any pregnancy starting within 12 months from the date of the affiliation is not covered, including the costs of birth of the baby. The costs of a pregnancy starting from the 13th month of the affiliation are covered, including delivery charges. The insurer may request a medical certificate to verify the date of the beginning of the pregnancy.
- b) 24 months waiting period for sterility treatments, including in vitro fertilization.
Sterility treatments authorized by the basic insurance and starting from the 25th month of the affiliation might be covered. The sterility treatment starts from the first investigation in case of a possible sterility and includes all the other related treatments till the pregnancy.
- c) Psychological and psychiatric treatments: 12 months waiting period from the date of affiliation for adults and 6 months for children of the age group 0-18 years. The limit applies depending on the age at the date of the affiliation.
In all cases, the waiting period applies for outpatient or inpatient treatment for a psychological or psychiatric condition starting after the date of the affiliation. For existing or planned treatment at the date of the affiliation, the insurer may formulate an exclusion for a longer period. The insurer may take all necessary medical information about the start date of the disease and of the treatment.

BENEFITS

The benefits of the complementary health insurance are linked to the benefits of the WHO Staff Health Insurance (SHI).

The benefits of the complementary health insurance are only paid in addition to the benefits paid by the SHI, according to the basic benefits and under the conditions of the SHI.

In lack of benefits from the SHI, no benefits are paid by the complementary health insurance with the exception of natural medicine outpatient treatments which are not covered by the SHI.

Ceilings and limits of the complementary health insurance are a maximum, even if the SHI decides to pay supplementary benefits or ex gratia benefits.

The table below is a summary of benefits. Only the General Conditions of Group Health and Accident Insurance PERFORMA, the insurance policy and the schedule of benefits are contractual documents.
